

Encyclopedia of Exploration Geophysics Proposal

Thank you for submitting a proposal to the Encyclopedia of Exploration Geophysics.

Your article should be written at an introductory level, accessible to students and practicing geophysicists who wish to learn an unfamiliar exploration subject, or at a more advanced level, intended for readers who already have some working knowledge and would like to deepen and extend it.

After completing this form, e-mail it to encyclopedia@seg.org for review by Encyclopedia editors. If your proposal is accepted, the editors will send you instructions for submission of your full article.

Submission title:

Complete list of author names:

Abstract (please note that the abstract does not need to be polished but must describe the material in sufficient detail to evaluate its suitability for the Encyclopedia):